ANNOUNCING OUR 21ST ANNIVERSARY SEASON

1 CIRCLE MIRROR TRANSFORMATION by Annie Baker – What can happen if you try something new? Five would-be actors in small-town Vermont take the plunge in the play the New York Times called “absorbing, unblinking and sharply funny.” Winner, 2010 Obie for Best New American Play.
Aug 24 – Sep 18, 2011

2 IN THE COMPANY OF DANCERS choreography by Rachel Lampert and Lindsay Gilmour – Private lives, public lives, dancers on stage and off. With violinist Linda Case and a company of dancers and musicians. (General Audience)
Sep 28 – Oct 9, 2011

3 NEAT by Charlayne Woodard – “From entrenched prejudice in the South to racial violence in the North... with side trips into teen-age fashions, hairdos and pop music, family relations, friendship and religion,” (NYTimes) a portrait of family and friends is powerfully created by a single actress.
Oct 19 – Nov 6, 2011

4 THE MYSTERY OF IRMA VEP by Charles Ludlam – Vampires, werewolves, and an Egyptian princess, oh my! A frightfully funny terrifying tale with two actors playing many roles. It's a scream!
Nov 30 – Dec 18, 2011

5 CALL ME WALDO by Rob Ackerman – What happens when the words of Ralph Waldo Emerson spill uncontrollably from the mouth of an ordinary working guy? A contemporary comedy of love, poetry and understanding. New Play developed at the Lark Play Development Center. Jan 18 – Feb 5, 2012

6 RED LIGHT WINTER by Adam Rapp – Dangerous sexual politics and power plays bring together two old friends and a mysterious woman. 2006 Pulitzer Prize Nominated play by one of America's most daring playwrights. Feb 22 – Mar 11, 2012

7 THE WHIPPING MAN by Matthew Lopez – At the end of the Civil War, two former slaves and their former master share history and secrets. A masterful story that challenges the personal ethics and morality of three men facing the most difficult choices of their lives. Apr 4 – 22, 2012

8 WAITING FOR SPRING book & lyrics by Rachel Lampert, music by Larry Pressgrove – In that extraordinary cold time after a New York City New Year's Eve, a chance encounter between a widow and a widower finds them both hoping for renewal as they wait for spring. New Musical May 30 – June 17, 2012

9 NEW COMEDY TBA – July 11 – 29, 2012
